

PRICE COMPARISON

Our PBX system offers huge savings over traditional methods of telecommunications. In almost all cases we are able to cut costs by more than 50%.

Below is an example of how a small business might use their phone system:

- The business has 3 staff and 3 telephones.
- All incoming calls should ring the front phone.
- If the call is unanswered then all phones should ring.
- If the call remains unanswered then it is directed to voicemail.

An additional 2 numbers are required as direct lines to the second and third telephone. Unanswered calls to these phones are directed to voicemail.

Over a day, they make an average of:

- 15 local calls
- 5 interstate calls lasting 2 minutes each
- 5 mobile calls lasting 2 minutes each

Note that in order to be able to replicate vControl functionality using Telstra lines, a PBX would need to be purchased costing around $1000.
